

Take Me

Take Me is a Danish rechargeable table lamp designed primarily for hotels and restaurants, where it is perfectly suited for table light at the dinner table, bar, terrace, and events. Due to the request from guests, they are now sold in several of the in-hotel boutiques.

Take Me is available with several options in colors and materials.

Take Me has been field-tested and updated over time and this third update is including a 3-step dimmer and the possibility to charge the guest's smartphone and tablet via USB.

The new rechargeable lithium-ION battery provides up to 30 hours of runtime, depending on the dim level and if used for smartphone/tablet charging.
